

First Nations

Fred Sarkari was our keynote speaker for a First Nations Gathering.

I was amazed at how prompt and attentive he was even before the engagement took place.

This made me feel very at ease and satisfied with my choice to have Fred Sarkari speak.

During his keynote, Fred was able to reach out to the audience in a personable manner, he was able to tailor his presentation to fit the needs of our organization.

He not only led a lively and informative presentation but he also took the time to familiarize himself with our goal and what we stood for.

Our Gathering was certainly enhanced this year by his presentation.

The feedback for his presentation was extremely positive.
